Kelsey Projects is a new commercial art gallery in Dayton that represents local, regional and national visual artists to private and corporate collectors along with interior design firms. Director Colleen Kelsey curates quarterly Pop-UP exhibitions at uniquely different locations in Dayton. Pop-UP art exhibitions are built by creating dynamic, engaging exhibitions showcasing skillful, noteworthy artwork at accessible price points. Between exhibitions available artworks are listed on the www.kelseyprojects.com website with Colleen Kelsey available for sales and future commissioned projects. “Art is about connection, a reflective mirror on who we are as a culture and the collective nature of our humanity, living with art expands our existence, understanding and brings beauty into our everyday lives,” says Director Colleen Kelsey.

This November the first Pop-UP exhibition focuses on Dayton and Midwest artists. Artists exhibiting are: Erin Holscher Almazan, Wesley Berg, Bridgette Bogle, Molly Carter, Glen Cebulash, Stefan Chinov, Lora Fosberg, Darren Haper, Alicia LaChance, Jeremy Long, David Menard, Elissa Rose Morley, Amy Powell, Danielle Rante, Heather Lea Reid, and Arjan Zazueta. There are several gallery events with scheduled gallery hours during the November Pop-UP exhibition. The first two events are in conjunction with the Front Street Warehouse artist community. The Third on Front event is Sunday, November 15th 11 am -4pm. A soft opening Thursday, November 19th 6-9pm opens along with other artists studios and galleries at the Front Street Warehouse. The big event is the Kelsey Projects Artist Opening Friday, November 20th 5-10pm with singer/ songwriter David Grandouiller of Chasing Phantoms performing 7:30- 8:15 pm. Gallery Hours: November 21st 22nd 11am- 6pm.
